

VACANCY

Research Assistant

March 2018-July 2019

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) invites applications for a research assistant to work on a research project entitled "Expectations and effects of regional independence: A comparison of Catalonia and Scotland", granted by the Institut d'Estudis de l'Autogovern (IEA) and funded through the Agència de Gestió d'Ajuts i de Recerca (AGAUR).

Candidates should be in possession of a master's degree or equivalent in a field such as economics, statistics, political science or international relations. Experience of Qualtrics or a similar survey software and experience in text analysis and statistical analysis would be highly valued. Fluency in English is essential, and ability to understand written Catalan and Spanish is preferable.

The research assistant's tasks will include literature review, analysis of existing publicly available data, preparation of the two case studies, baseline text analysis of media, programming surveys, assistance in analysis of the survey results, along with any other tasks that assist the research team.

The work commitment is at 50% time for 16 months, starting on 15 March 2018 (flexible). Remuneration is equivalent to 655€/month (gross). There is also the possibility to carry out the work as a full-time position.

The post will be based at IBEI in Barcelona and under the supervision of an international team of researchers (Laia Balcells, Georgetown University; Jose Fernández-Albertos, CSIC; Alex Kuo, University of Oxford), with the direct supervision of Lesley-Ann Daniels (IBEI).

Applications must be submitted by 18 February 2018

Applicants should send:

- A letter of interest
- Current CV that includes contact information for two referees.

The application should be saved as one PDF document and sent to:

Carlos Sanchez, Research coordinator at IBEI
csanchez@ibei.org

Candidates will be notified only if they are successful.

This position is ideal for an advanced graduate student looking to get paid learning experience about academic project development, survey design, and data analysis about issues related to regional politics, public opinion, and nationalism.

For any questions regarding the position, please contact Lesley-Ann Daniels (ldaniels@ibei.org).

INSTITUT BARCELONA D'ESTUDIS INTERNACIONALS (IBEI)

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals is a graduate teaching and research institution created by five universities in Barcelona (the University of Barcelona, the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Pompeu Fabra University, the Open University of Catalonia, and the Technical University of Catalonia).

IBEI supports research in all fields of international political economy, international relations, international security, foreign policy and comparative politics. IBEI is an equal opportunities employer.

Further information about IBEI and its Master's programmes can be obtained at www.ibei.org